Preface & Archival Information

This landmark volume, Tangkhul Naga Grammar and Dictionary (Ukhrul Dialect) with Illustrative Sentences, was prepared by Rev. William Pettigrew of the American Baptist Mission and published by the Assam Secretariat Printing Office, Shillong, in 1918. It established the Romanized orthography of Tangkhul, documented over 3,000 core words, and provided the foundational grammatical syntax for the Ukhrul dialect.

Chapter 1: Orthography, Vowels & Consonantal Phonetics

CHAPTER 1: ORTHOGRAPHY, VOWELS & CONSONANTAL PHONETICS

Summary: The Roman alphabet system adapted for Tangkhul, macron markings, and glottal accents.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tangkhul Naga tuihi Roman script eina kapi shiyan khare. Vowels a, e, i, o, u hi khangashan kachung lei. Kakhalat kashak: ’a’ kachihi khangarom tui, ’a’ kachihi khamashung kashak. Glottal stop (’) hi tuikashak ngachaili shiyan kashakna.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

The Tangkhul language was reduced to writing using the Roman alphabet. Vowel quantity is distinguished with macrons. Short vowels contrast with long vowels. The glottal stop (’) marks vital tonal and grammatical separations in the Ukhrul dialect.

Chapter 1 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 1 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* kapi (verb): to write, to inscribe
  Example: Lairik kapili.
* sairik (noun): alphabet, character, letter
  Example: Sairik shiyan.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Vowel length alters word meaning: e.g. ka vs ka, sha vs sha.
- Syllabic structure is CV, CVC, or CCV.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Why was the macron introduced in Pettigrew's 1918 orthography?
? Give examples of syllable-final consonants in Tangkhul.

Chapter 2: Noun Morphology, Gender & Case Suffixes

CHAPTER 2: NOUN MORPHOLOGY, GENDER & CASE SUFFIXES

Summary: Nominative, Agentive (-na), Accusative (-li), Genitive (-wui), Ablative (-eina).

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tuiwon kasak shiyan: Agentive -na, Dative -li, Possessive -wui, Instrumental -eina. Shimwui ava (master of house), mayarnaona ot sai (the boy does work). Gender: mayar (masculine), va (feminine).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Declension of nouns follows agglutinative postpositions. Agentive marker -na identifies the transitive subject. Genitive -wui indicates relationship, origin, and possession. Grammatical gender does not exist; biological sex is indicated by suffixal markers.

Chapter 2 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 2 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* ava (noun): father, head of household
  Example: Shimwui ava.
* ot (noun): work, labor, deed
  Example: Ot kasa.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Postposition -eina marks both instrument ('with') and source ('from').
- Plural marker -bing follows the noun base and precedes case particles.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Distinguish between nominative and agentive uses in Tangkhul.
? Construct sentences using genitive marker -wui.

Chapter 3: Adjectives, Degrees of Comparison & Numerals

CHAPTER 3: ADJECTIVES, DEGREES OF COMPARISON & NUMERALS

Summary: Prefix ka-, superlative pamei, and complete numeral tables from 1 to 100.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Kapha (good), kaphamei (better), pamei (best). Kasau (tall), kazing (deep). Numbers: akha (1), khani (2), kathum (3), mati (4), phanga (5), tharuk (6), shini (7), chishat (8), chiko (9), thakhara (10), maga khani (20), sha akha (100).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Adjectives usually follow their governing nouns: e.g. mi kapha (a good man). Comparative suffix -mei; superlative pamei. Decimals: 10 is thakhara or maga, 20 is maga khani, 100 is sha akha.

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* kasau (adj): tall, high, lengthy Example: Thing kasau.
* sha (num): hundred (100)
  Example: Sha akha.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Attributive adjectives follow nouns; predicate adjectives stand sentence-finally.
- Numerals follow the noun: mi kathum = three men.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Where does an attributive adjective place relative to its noun?

? Count from 10 to 20 in Tangkhul.

Chapter 4: Pronouns: Personal, Demonstrative & Interrogative

CHAPTER 4: PRONOUNS: PERSONAL, DEMONSTRATIVE & INTERROGATIVE

Summary: Pronoun declensions, inclusive vs exclusive first person, and demonstratives hi/chi.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

I (I), na (thou), a (he/she/it). Ithum (we), nathum (you all), athum (they). Hi (this), chi (that). Khi (what), khipa (who), khishiwui (whose), kachi (which). Iwui shimli unglo (come to my house).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Personal pronouns take the same case suffixes as nouns: ina, ili, iwui.
Demonstrative pronouns hi (proximal: this) and chi (distal: that).
Interrogative pronouns: khipa (who), khi (what), kachi (which).

Chapter 4 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 4 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* khipa (pronoun): who
  Example: Khipana vashu?
* khi (pronoun): what
  Example: Khi ot sayi?

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Interrogatives remain in situ and do not trigger inversion.
- Possessive pronouns precede or follow nouns depending on emphasis.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Form the complete case declension of pronoun ’i’ (I).
? What is the difference between ’hi’ and ’chi’?

Chapter 5: The Verbal System: Tenses, Moods & Causatives

CHAPTER 5: THE VERBAL SYSTEM: TENSES, MOODS & CAUSATIVES

Summary: Conjugations, aspectual particles, auxiliaries lei and sa, and passive/causative morphemes.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Present: i sai (I make/do). Past: i sada / i saser (I made/did). Future: i sara (I will make/do). Subjunctive: a va-akha (if he goes). Causative: i ali sa-sak-ei (I cause him to do). Auxiliary: lei (to exist, to have), sa (to do, to be).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Verbal morphology is rich and precise: tense inflections, conditional suffixes (-akha), and causative markers (-sak). Existential auxiliary 'lei' expresses location and possession.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* kalei (verb): to exist, to dwell, to be present
  Example: Ramli kalei.
* kasak (verb/affix): to cause to do; difficult Example: Sakasak.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Conditional clauses end in verb root + -akha ('if').
- Existential 'lei' takes possessor in dative-locative (-li): ili lairik lei = I have a book.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? How is possession expressed using the verb 'lei'?
? Give the conditional form of 'kathei' (to see).

Chapter 6: Conversational Phrases & Everyday Village Life

CHAPTER 6: CONVERSATIONAL PHRASES & EVERYDAY VILLAGE LIFE

Summary: Phrases for greeting, agricultural work, village council affairs, and family relations.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Khangachan: 'Na katha lei?' -- 'I phaida lei.' 'Nawui ming khi hoyno?' -- 'Iwui ming Somi hoyei.' 'Lui kasak tharan zingshorli kaphung ngashitda ot kasa phamei.' 'Iram Ukhrulli won kapha wonri.'

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Conversational exchanges: 'How are you?' -- 'I am well.' 'What is your name?' -- 'My name is Somi.' 'During terrace cultivation, working together on the eastern hills is best.' 'In our Ukhrul homeland, lovely blooms flourish.'

Chapter 6 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 6 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* ming (noun): name, appellation
  Example: Nawui ming khi hoyno?

Imprint, Archival Rights & Preface (p. 2)
Chapter 1: Theoretical Framework & Language Profile (pp. 4-5)
Chapter 2: Segmental Phonetics & Tone Pitch Contours (pp. 6-7)
Chapter 3: Morphological Typology & Affixation (pp. 8-9)
Chapter 4: Syntax: Clause Structure & Converb Chaining (pp. 10-11)
Chapter 5: Linguistic Texts with Interlinear Glosses (pp. 12-13)
Chapter 6: Comprehensive Lexical Root Index & Summary (pp. 14-16)
Comprehensive Glossary & Vocabulary Index (p. 17)
Back Cover & Archival Colophon (p. 18)

Chapter 1: Theoretical Framework & Language Profile

CHAPTER 1: THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK & LANGUAGE PROFILE

Summary: Linguistic classification, field methodology, informant demographics, and phonological framework.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tangkhul Naga Phonetic Reader wui research framework: Tangkhul Naga language documentation. Ukhrul dialect phoneme inventory and tonal contours recorded in linguistic fieldwork. Morpheme boundaries and acoustic vowel formant measurements.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Methodological framework of Tangkhul Naga Phonetic Reader: Systematic documentation of Tangkhul Naga. Ukhrul dialect phonology and pitch contours gathered from native speaker consultants. Morpheme boundaries and acoustic vowel formant analyses.

Chapter 1 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 1 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* shiyan (noun): linguistic rule, grammar
  Example: Shiyan kasak.
* kakhalat (noun): phonetic value, meaning Example: Tui kakhalat.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Structural linguistic descriptive notation.
- Phonemic vs phonetic transcription.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What theoretical framework guided this linguistic study?
? Describe the consultant pool for Ukhrul dialect data.

Chapter 2: Segmental Phonetics & Tone Pitch Contours

CHAPTER 2: SEGMENTAL PHONETICS & TONE PITCH CONTOURS

Summary: Consonantal articulation points, vowel length contrasts, and level vs falling tones.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Vowel formants: F1 and F2 acoustic spaces for a, a, e, e, i, i, o, o, u, u. Tone minimal pairs in Ukhrul Tangkhul: Level tone (55), Rising tone (35), Falling tone (51). Glottal catch distribution in word-final codas.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Vowel formant measurements for short and long vowel series. Tonal pitch contrasts documented in Ukhrul speech: high level, rising, and falling contours. Phonemic distribution of syllable-final glottal stops.

Chapter 2 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 2 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* sairik (noun): phoneme, speech sound
  Example: Sairik kakhalat.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Suprasegmental tone register contrasts.
- Aspiration timing in plosives.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Identify the three primary tone pitch contours in Tangkhul.

? How do vowel formants correlate with vowel length?

Chapter 3: Morphological Typology & Affixation

CHAPTER 3: MORPHOLOGICAL TYPOLOGY & AFFIXATION

Summary: Agglutinative processes, nominal prefix ka-, verbal aspect markers, and directional affixes.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Morphology: Prefix ka- derivations (kapha, kacham). Suffixation patterns: -na (agentive), -li (dative), -wui (genitive), -eina (instrumental). Directional verb prefixes and causative -sak.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Morphological processes in Tangkhul: Productive nominalization with ka-. Case marking clitics and directional verbal affixes indicating upward, downward, and cislocative action.

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* tuiwon (noun): morpheme, word stem
  Example: Tuiwon shiyan.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Agglutinative affix ordering.
- Prefixal vs suffixal asymmetries in Tibeto-Burman.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Explain the multifunctional role of prefix ka-.

? How are directional movements encoded in verbal stems?

Chapter 4: Syntax: Clause Structure & Converb Chaining

CHAPTER 4: SYNTAX: CLAUSE STRUCTURE & CONVERB CHAINING

Summary: SOV sentence structure, subordinate converbs (-da, -laga), and relative clauses.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Syntax: Subject-Object-Verb word order. Clause chaining with non-finite converb markers -da and -laga: ’Ana shimli ung-laga ot sai’ (Having arrived home, he worked). Head-final relative clauses.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Syntactic typology: Strict verb-final (SOV) ordering. Extensive clause chaining utilizing converbs -da and -laga for sequential narrative cohesion. Internally-headed and head-final relative clause constructions.

Chapter 4 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 4 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* tuikashak (noun): syntax, sentence structure
  Example: Tuikashak ngashitda.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Clause chaining vs coordinate subordination.
- Topic marking vs focus marking in Tangkhul.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Diagram a clause-chained sentence in Tangkhul.

? How are relative clauses formed in standard syntax?

Chapter 5: Linguistic Texts with Interlinear Glosses

CHAPTER 5: LINGUISTIC TEXTS WITH INTERLINEAR GLOSSES

Summary: Folktale narrative transcribed with morpheme-by-morpheme glosses and grammatical analysis.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Khararchan text glossing: Thot-kashak-wui wari akha lei. Mi akha-na lui-li va-da ot sa-i. A-wui shim-li kachak kashak sang-laga matha-yei.
Gloss: time-ancient-GEN story one exist. person one-AGT field-LOC go-CONV work do-PRES.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Interlinearized folktale specimen: There was once an ancient legend. A person went to the terrace fields and labored. Returning to his home with grain, he rejoiced. Full Leipzig Glossing Rules applied to each morpheme.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* wari (noun): oral text, discourse
  Example: Wari glossing.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Leipzig glossing conventions applied to Tibeto-Burman.
- Zero anaphora in discourse.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Explain the glossing abbreviation AGT and LOC in the sample text.

? How is narrative discourse coherence achieved without overt pronouns?

Chapter 6: Comprehensive Lexical Root Index & Summary

CHAPTER 6: COMPREHENSIVE LEXICAL ROOT INDEX & SUMMARY

Summary: Index of analyzed roots, sound correspondence tables, and bibliographic citations.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Lexical Index: Root morphemes indexed with reconstructed Proto-Tibeto-Burman forms. Cognate sets comparing Ukhrul Tangkhul with neighboring Naga and Kuki languages.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Comprehensive morphological index correlating documented Tangkhul lexical roots with comparative Tibeto-Burman cognate sets and phonetic cross-references.

Chapter 6 (Continued)

Comprehensive morphological index correlating documented Tangkhul lexical roots with comparative Tibeto-Burman cognate sets and phonetic cross-references.

Chapter 6 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 6 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* ram (noun): land, earth (PTB *r-ma)
  Example: Iram Ukhrul.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Comparative historical phonology of Naga languages.
- Root morpheme segmentation.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Cite two Tangkhul lexical items with clear Proto-Tibeto-Burman cognates.

? Summarize the primary morphological discoveries of this volume.

Comprehensive Vocabulary Glossary

Vowel formant measurements for short and long vowel series. Tonal pitch contrasts documented in Ukhrul speech: high level, rising, and falling contours. Phonemic distribution of syllable-final glottal stops.

Chapter 2 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 2 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* sairik (noun): phoneme, speech sound
  Example: Sairik kakhalat.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Suprasegmental tone register contrasts.
- Aspiration timing in plosives.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Identify the three primary tone pitch contours in Tangkhul.

? How do vowel formants correlate with vowel length?

Chapter 3: Morphological Typology & Affixation

CHAPTER 3: MORPHOLOGICAL TYPOLOGY & AFFIXATION

Summary: Agglutinative processes, nominal prefix ka-, verbal aspect markers, and directional affixes.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Morphology: Prefix ka- derivations (kapha, kacham). Suffixation patterns: -na (agentive), -li (dative), -wui (genitive), -eina (instrumental). Directional verb prefixes and causative -sak.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Morphological processes in Tangkhul: Productive nominalization with ka-. Case marking clitics and directional verbal affixes indicating upward, downward, and cislocative action.

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* tuiwon (noun): morpheme, word stem
  Example: Tuiwon shiyan.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Agglutinative affix ordering.
- Prefixal vs suffixal asymmetries in Tibeto-Burman.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Explain the multifunctional role of prefix ka-.

? How are directional movements encoded in verbal stems?

Chapter 4: Syntax: Clause Structure & Converb Chaining

CHAPTER 4: SYNTAX: CLAUSE STRUCTURE & CONVERB CHAINING

Summary: SOV sentence structure, subordinate converbs (-da, -laga), and relative clauses.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Syntax: Subject-Object-Verb word order. Clause chaining with non-finite converb markers -da and -laga: ’Ana shimli ung-laga ot sai’ (Having arrived home, he worked). Head-final relative clauses.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Syntactic typology: Strict verb-final (SOV) ordering. Extensive clause chaining utilizing converbs -da and -laga for sequential narrative cohesion. Internally-headed and head-final relative clause constructions.

Chapter 4 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 4 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* tuikashak (noun): syntax, sentence structure
  Example: Tuikashak ngashitda.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Clause chaining vs coordinate subordination.
- Topic marking vs focus marking in Tangkhul.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Diagram a clause-chained sentence in Tangkhul.

? How are relative clauses formed in standard syntax?

Chapter 5: Linguistic Texts with Interlinear Glosses

CHAPTER 5: LINGUISTIC TEXTS WITH INTERLINEAR GLOSSES

Summary: Folktale narrative transcribed with morpheme-by-morpheme glosses and grammatical analysis.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Khararchan text glossing: Thot-kashak-wui wari akha lei. Mi akha-na lui-li va-da ot sa-i. A-wui shim-li kachak kashak sang-laga matha-yei.
Gloss: time-ancient-GEN story one exist. person one-AGT field-LOC go-CONV work do-PRES.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Interlinearized folktale specimen: There was once an ancient legend. A person went to the terrace fields and labored. Returning to his home with grain, he rejoiced. Full Leipzig Glossing Rules applied to each morpheme.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* wari (noun): oral text, discourse
  Example: Wari glossing.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Leipzig glossing conventions applied to Tibeto-Burman.
- Zero anaphora in discourse.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Explain the glossing abbreviation AGT and LOC in the sample text.

? How is narrative discourse coherence achieved without overt pronouns?

Chapter 6: Comprehensive Lexical Root Index & Summary

CHAPTER 6: COMPREHENSIVE LEXICAL ROOT INDEX & SUMMARY

Summary: Index of analyzed roots, sound correspondence tables, and bibliographic citations.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Lexical Index: Root morphemes indexed with reconstructed Proto-Tibeto-Burman forms. Cognate sets comparing Ukhrul Tangkhul with neighboring Naga and Kuki languages.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Comprehensive morphological index correlating documented Tangkhul lexical roots with comparative Tibeto-Burman cognate sets and phonetic cross-references.

Chapter 6 (Continued)

Comprehensive morphological index correlating documented Tangkhul lexical roots with comparative Tibeto-Burman cognate sets and phonetic cross-references.

Chapter 6 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 6 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* ram (noun): land, earth (PTB *r-ma)
  Example: Iram Ukhrul.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Comparative historical phonology of Naga languages.
- Root morpheme segmentation.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Cite two Tangkhul lexical items with clear Proto-Tibeto-Burman cognates.

? Summarize the primary morphological discoveries of this volume.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

TLS orthographic standardization: Strict adherence to vowel length markings (a, e, i, o, u). Minimal pairs demonstrate phonemic vowel length: ’sa’ (to do) versus ’sa’ (animal/flesh); ’sha’ (to hear) versus ’sha’ (hundred).

Chapter 4 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 4 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* shiyan (noun): orthography, spelling, rule
  Example: Kapi shiyan.
* sairik (noun): alphabet letter, glyph
  Example: Sairik kashung.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Minimal vowel length contrasts distinguish lexical meanings.
- Capitalization conventions in written Tangkhul.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Illustrate three minimal word pairs distinguished by vowel length.
? Why is standardized orthography essential for textbooks?

Chapter 5: Tuiwon kala Tuikashak: Grammar & Parts of Speech

CHAPTER 5: TUIWON KALA TUIKASHAK: GRAMMAR & PARTS OF SPEECH

Summary: Nouns, pronouns, verbs, case markers (-na, -li, -wui, -eina), and sentence syntax.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tuiwon kasak: Nouns take case suffixes: mayarnaona (subject), ali (object), shimwui (genitive). Verbs take aspect suffixes: sai (present), sada (past), sara (future). Clause syntax: Subject + Object + Verb (SOV).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Grammatical structures: Nouns inflect for syntactic roles: agentive (-na), accusative (-li), possessive (-wui). Verbs mark tense and aspect: present (-i), past (-da), future (-ra). Canonical word order is Subject-Object-Verb.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* tuiwon (noun): noun, nominal stem
  Example: Tuiwon kasak.
* tuikashak (noun): grammar, sentence structure
  Example: Tuikashak shiyan.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Postpositional clitics attach to noun phrase boundaries.
- Verb agreement is aspectual rather than person-concordant.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Identify the subject, object, and verb in: 'Mayarnaona lairik pari.'
? List the past tense suffixes in modern Tangkhul.

Chapter 6: Iram Ukhrul wui Phanit: Seasonal Festivals

Chapter 1: Introduction & Dialectal Classification

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION & DIALECTAL CLASSIFICATION

Summary: Geographical distribution, tribal divisions, and linguistic position in the Tibeto-Burman family.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tangkhul Naga hi Manipur ramwui kaphung zanshorli kapam tui thotna.
Ukhrul kaphung hi Tangkhul tuiwui phungreitang thada shiyan kashakna.
Tui hi Tibeto-Burman wui Naga-Kuki tui ngachaili shangserna.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

The Tangkhul Nagas inhabit the eastern hill tracts of Manipur State. The village of Ukhrul serves as the central cultural and linguistic standard. The language belongs to the Naga-Bodo / Tibeto-Burman linguistic stock.

Chapter 1 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 1 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* ram (noun): country, territory, homeland
  Example: Manipur ramli kapam.
* kaphung (noun): mountain, hill
  Example: Zingshor kaphungli.
* shiyan (noun): custom, standard, linguistic form Example: Shiyan kashak.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Tangkhul exhibits SOV (Subject - Object - Verb) word order.
- Agglutinative prefixation (ka-) and suffixation dominate inflection.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Where is the dialectal center of the Tangkhul language located?
? What major language family does Tangkhul belong to?

Chapter 2: Phonology and the Roman Alphabet

CHAPTER 2: PHONOLOGY AND THE ROMAN ALPHABET

Summary: Vowels, consonants, diphthongs, and glottal tone stops introduced by W. Pettigrew.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Vowels: a, aa, e, ee, i, ii, o, oo, u, uu. Consonants: k, kh, ng, ch, chh, j, t, th, n, p, ph, m, y, r, l, w, s, sh, h. Kakhalat kashak shiyan eina tui khangatei kachung lei.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Vowel inventory with phonemic length distinctions: short and long vowels. Consonantal series with aspirated stops (kh, th, ph, chh). Syllable-final consonants and tonal inflections alter word significations.

Chapter 2 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 2 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* tui (noun): word, language, speech
  Example: Tangkhul tui mathan.
* kakhalat (noun): meaning, pronunciation
  Example: Kakhalat shiyan.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Macron diacritic marks long vowel quantity (a, e, i, o, u).
- Aspiration contrasts phonemically in initial plosives: k vs kh, t vs th, p vs ph.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Name the five vowel pairs with length distinctions in Tangkhul.
? How are aspirated consonants represented in the Roman orthography?

Chapter 3: The Noun System & Case Inflections

CHAPTER 3: THE NOUN SYSTEM & CASE INFLECTIONS

Summary: Natural gender indicators, plural formations, and postpositional case endings.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tuiwon bing: mayarnaona (nominative), mayarnaoli (accusative/dative), mayarnaowui (genitive), mayarnaoeina (instrumental/ablative). Chitharan shiyan kakhane: si (dog), siva (bitch), simayar (male dog).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Case suffixes attached to nominal stems: -na (nominative/agentive), -li (dative/objective), -wui (genitive/possessive), -eina (instrumental/ablative). Gender markers: -va (female) and -mayar (male).

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* mayarnao (noun): man, young man, son
  Example: Mayarnaona vayi.
* ngalanao (noun): girl, maiden, daughter Example: Ngalanao kapha.
* shim (noun): house, home
  Example: Awui shimli kapam.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Agentive suffix -na is obligatory for subjects of transitive verbs.
- Plurality is formed by adding -bing or -binda to nominal bases.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Identify the four primary case suffixes in Tangkhul nominal syntax.
? How is natural gender differentiated in animal nouns?

Chapter 4: Adjectives, Numerals & Pronouns

CHAPTER 4: ADJECTIVES, NUMERALS & PRONOUNS

Summary: Adjectival prefix ka-, degrees of comparison, cardinal numerals, and pronoun paradigms.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Kapha (good), kakhui (bitter), kacham (poor). Comparison: kaphamei (better), pamei (best). Numerals: akha (1), khani (2), kathum (3), mati (4), phanga (5), tharuk (6), shini (7), chishat (8), chiko (9), thakhara / maga (10). Pronouns: i (I), na (thou), a (he/she).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Descriptive adjectives are derived using prefix ka-. Comparison is marked with -mei. Cardinal numerals from 1 to 10. Personal pronouns: 1st person ’i’, 2nd person ’na’, 3rd person ’a’; plurals: ithum, nathum, athum.

Chapter 4 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 4 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* kapha (adj): good, beautiful, auspicious
  Example: Won kapha.
* akha (num): one (1)
  Example: Mi akha.
* khani (num): two (2)
  Example: Mayarnaowon khani.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Prefix ka- nominalizes or adjectivizes verbal roots.
- Dual and plural pronouns are formed with suffix -thum (ithum = we).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? List the Tangkhul numerals from one to five.

? Explain how personal pronouns form possessives in Tangkhul.

Chapter 5: Verb Conjugation, Tenses & Moods

CHAPTER 5: VERB CONJUGATION, TENSES & MOODS

Summary: Verbal roots, tense inflections (-ei, -ser, -ra), imperative (-lu), and negative prefixes.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

I sai (I do, present), i sada / i theiser (past), i sara (future).
Imperative: salu (do!), theilu (see!). Negative: masa-mana (does not do), mathei-mana (does not see). Causative: -sak (sasaku).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Verbs conjugate through tense suffixes: present -ei/-i, past -ser/-da, future -ra. Imperative forms take suffix -lu. Negation frames the verbal root with prefix ma- and suffix -mana. Causation is expressed with -sak.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* kasa (verb): to do, to make, to create
  Example: Ot kasa.
* kathei (verb): to see, to perceive Example: Ali kathei.
* kashak (verb): to eat, to partake
  Example: Kachak kashak.

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Discontinuous negative morpheme: ma- [root] -mana.
- Aspectual suffix -ser indicates completive or collective action.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Conjugate the verb root 'sa' in present, past, and future.

? How is a negative declarative sentence constructed in Tangkhul?

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. Which now of these three was neighbour unto him? He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

A certain man had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father’s have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee. And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

Chapter 6 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 6 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Mayar khikakhana (noun phrase): two sons, pair of male siblings
* Share (noun): portion, inheritance share, divided property
* Shiman-hail (verb): wasted away, squandered utterly
* Chikhurli phum (verb phrase): embraced upon the neck, kissed warmly

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Temporal correlative ’leisalilha’ (while still being far off) expresses anticipatory parental vigil.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What request did the younger son make of his father?

? What phrase translates ’when he came to himself’ in Tangkhul?

Chapter 7: Emmaus Shongwui Zatkatha (The Road to Emmaus)

CHAPTER 7: EMMAUS SHONGWUI ZATKATHA (THE ROAD TO EMMAUS)

Summary: The risen Christ walking unrecognized with two disciples on the Emmaus road and revealing Himself in the breaking of bread.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs. And they talked together of all these things which had happened. And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him. And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?

Chapter 7 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 7 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Ngatei-tui (verb phrase): to discuss, converse mutually on deep matters
* Phakazang (verb): drew near, approached alongside
* Theiphunsai (verb): recognized suddenly, eyes were opened
* Mei katha (noun phrase): burning like fire, inflamed with conviction

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The rhetorical interrogative suffix '-sakha' poses the reflective question: 'masasakha?' (did it not burn?).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? At what exact moment did the disciples recognize Jesus at Emmaus?

? How did the disciples describe their hearts burning within them?

Chapter 1 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 1 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Kachatbing (noun plural): apostles, authoritative emissaries
* Pangmashan (noun): power, divine might, spiritual authority
* Sakhibing (noun plural): witnesses, testifiers to truth
* Theishak (noun): lots, divine casting of decision

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Tangkhul uses the indigenous legal term 'sakhibing' (witnesses) for those testifying under solemn oath.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? How long was Jesus seen by the apostles after His passion?

? Who was chosen to take the place of Judas among the twelve?

Chapter 2: Pentecost Thangli Mangan Kathara (Day of Pentecost)

CHAPTER 2: PENTECOST THANGLI MANGAN KATHARA (DAY OF PENTECOST)

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues. Then Peter stood up and said, Ye men of Israel, hear these words; This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses. Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 2 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Huchiphung (noun): rushing mighty wind, storm force
* Malei (noun): tongue, flame of speech
* Ngatei tui (noun phrase): other languages, diverse tongues
* Ningzan ngashun (verb phrase): to repent, rectify the mind and heart

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The verbal phrase ’ningzan ngashunlu’ fuses ’ningzan’ (heart-contrition) with ’ngashun’ (to make straight).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Describe the signs that accompanied the descent of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost.
? What did Peter urge the crowd to do at the conclusion of his sermon?

Chapter 3: Temple Gate wui Pamli Thotkhamatei (Lame Man at the Beautiful Gate)

CHAPTER 3: TEMPLE GATE WUI PAMLI THOTKHAMATEI (LAME MAN AT THE BEAUTIFUL GATE)

Summary: Healing of the lame man by Peter and John at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour. And a certain man lame from his mother’s womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple. Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Phaphuk khazat (noun phrase): lame from birth, crippled in the feet
* Rupa kala sona (noun phrase): silver and gold
* Pangkasho pang (noun phrase): right hand
* Khangachor (verb participle): leaping, dancing with joyous vigor

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The paired coordinate 'rupa kala sona' uses standard Loan-Assamese roots fully naturalized in colonial Tangkhul.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? At what hour did Peter and John go up to the Temple?

? What memorable response did Peter give when asked for alms?

Chapter 4: Councilwui Phungli Sakhi Chitheikahai (Before the Sanhedrin)

CHAPTER 4: COUNCILWUI PHUNGLI SAKHI CHITHEIKAHAI (BEFORE THE SANHEDRIN)

Summary: Peter and John arrested and questioned before the rulers, elders, and scribes of the Council.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this? Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved. But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.

Chapter 4 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 4 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Hangvabing (noun plural): council of elders, senators, Sanhedrin magistrates
* Kazing kaphungli (prepositional phrase): under heaven, beneath the celestial dome
* Ngashon-katha (verb phrase): to hearken, obey, submit to authority
* Shanshilu (imperative verb): judge ye, weigh and determine

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Pettigrew uses the indigenous administrative title 'Hangvabing' (village elder bench) for the Sanhedrin rulers.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? How did Peter respond to the council's prohibition against preaching?

? Explain the cultural borrowing of 'Hangva' in early Tangkhul scriptural translation.

Chapter 5: Stephenwui Pao kala Kashung Thot (The Martyrdom of Stephen)

CHAPTER 5: STEPHENWUI PAO KALA KASHUNG THOT (THE MARTYRDOM OF STEPHEN)

Summary: Stephen’s defense before the council, vision of the Son of Man, and stoning as the first Christian martyr.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people. And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel. But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God. And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. And Saul was consenting unto his death.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Lungna chidat (verb phrase): cast stones, stoned with rocks
* Khon-kaphung (verb participle): calling out with loud voice, invoking
* Machonlu (imperative negative): lay not to charge, impute not
* Phakhur phum (verb phrase): kneeled down, fell on knees in prayer

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Instrumental postposition ’-na’ on ’lungna’ marks the lethal physical instrument: by means of stones.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What two prayers did Stephen utter before his death?
? Who was recorded as consenting to Stephen’s death?

Chapter 6: Corneliusli Pao Kazang (Conversion of Cornelius)

CHAPTER 6: CORNELIUSLI PAO KAZANG (CONVERSION OF CORNELIUS)

Summary: Peter’s vision of the clean and unclean animals, journey to Caesarea, and the gospel opened to the Gentiles.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

There was a certain man in Caesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band, A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway. Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him. While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

Chapter 6 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 6 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Kaching mei mana (idiomatic clause): does not show partiality, no respecter of persons
* Kacharan (adjective / verb): reverent, God-fearing, devout
* Dori (noun): alms, charitable offerings to the needy
* Ningkachang (noun): favor, delight, divine acceptance

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The negative comparative 'kaching mei mana' (literally: does not exceed in biased viewing) translates impartial justice.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What was the occupation of Cornelius in Caesarea?

? What theological breakthrough did Peter announce in Acts 10:34-35?

Chapter 7: Athens Ramli Paulna Tui Chitheikahai (Paul at the Areopagus)

CHAPTER 7: ATHENS RAMLI PAULNA TUI CHITHEIKAHAI (PAUL AT THE AREOPAGUS)

Summary: Paul’s sermon at Mars Hill in Athens concerning the Unknown God, repentance, and resurrection.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars’ hill, and said, Ye men of Athens,
I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands;
For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

Chapter 1: Origin Traditions and Migration from Makhel

CHAPTER 1: ORIGIN TRADITIONS AND MIGRATION FROM MAKHEL

Summary: Ancient origins at Makhel and Khezhakenoma, the myth of the three brothers, and settlement of the Ukhrul ridge.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tangkhul oral literature unequivocally traces ancestral migrations back to Makhel in northern Manipur and contiguous Khezhakenoma. From Makhel, three brothers departed: the eldest became the Meitei of the valley, the middle the Tangkhul of the eastern hills, and the youngest the Northern Naga groups. Hundung and Hunphun represent the dual pivotal chieftaincies from which daughter settlements radiated throughout the Raphei (Northern), Rem (Western), Kharao (Southern), and Khanggo (Eastern) geographical divisions. While standard Tangkhul is based on the dialect of Hunphun, the tribe comprises over one hundred villages.

Chapter 1 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 1 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Makhel (proper noun): sacred ancestral dispersal village of the Naga tribes
* Raphei (proper noun): northern Tangkhul territorial division
* Rem (proper noun): western Tangkhul mountain division
* Khanggo (proper noun): eastern border division contiguous to Myanmar

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Toponyms like ’Raphei’ and ’Kharao’ function as regional dialect and sociocultural identifiers.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What three brother-groups departed from Makhel in Tangkhul tradition?

? Name the four ancient geographical divisions of the Tangkhul hills.

Chapter 2: The Village Republic: Awunga and the Hangva Council

CHAPTER 2: THE VILLAGE REPUBLIC: AWUNGA AND THE HANGVA COUNCIL

Summary: Village sovereignty (Wungram), the hereditary chief (Awunga), the clan elder bench (Hangva), and the Longshim dormitory.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

The traditional Tangkhul village was an autonomous republic with defined territorial borders. At the head of each village stood the Awunga (hereditary chief), governing in strict concert with the Hangva (Council of Elders representing all village clans). The Hangva met at the Awunga's courtyard to adjudicate disputes, announce festival schedules, declare seasonal taboos (khamthei), and decide matters of peace or war. Decisions were reached through consensus (ngalung). Integral to village life was the Longshim (youth dormitory system) which served as the civic militia and school of etiquette.

VOCABULARY:

* Awunga (noun): village chief, hereditary royal headman
* Hangva (noun): village council of clan elders
* Ngalung (noun): consensus, unanimous deliberative agreement
* Longshim (noun): youth dormitory, communal education hall

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The compound 'Wungram' joins 'Wung' (indigenous ethnonym) with 'ram' (land / country / territory).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? How did the Hangva council reach decisions under customary governance?

? Describe the educational and defensive roles of the Longshim dormitory.

Chapter 3: Agricultural Regimes: Luingam and Shilmik

CHAPTER 3: AGRICULTURAL REGIMES: LUINGAM AND SHILMIK

Summary: Terrace cultivation (Luingam), swidden farming (Shilmik), irrigation channels (kong-kuir), and the Luira festival.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tangkhul subsistence economy was anchored upon wet-rice terrace cultivation (Luingam) and rotational swidden farming (Shilmik). Terraces along mountain slopes required gravity-fed irrigation channels (kong-kuir) maintained collectively by syndicates. The agricultural calendar opened with the Luira Phanit (seed-sowing festival) in February. No villager was permitted to sow until the Awunga performed the sacred first sowing ritual. Harvest was celebrated with Chumpha in December, consecrating newly garnered paddy in village granaries (raizan).

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Luingam (noun): wet-rice terrace cultivation, irrigated terrace field
* Shilmik (noun): swidden agriculture, slash-and-burn jhum plot
* Kong-kuir (noun): irrigation canal, gravity-fed water channel
* Raizan (noun): granary, raised storehouse for harvested paddy

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Compound root ’luira’ combines ’lui’ (terrace field) and ’ra’ (water / festival rites).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What is the distinction between Luingam and Shilmik cultivation?

? Which festivals mark the opening and closing of the Tangkhul farming cycle?

Chapter 4: Clan Kinship (Shang) and Land Tenure

CHAPTER 4: CLAN KINSHIP (SHANG) AND LAND TENURE

Summary: Exogamous patrilineal clans (Shang), inheritance by male primogeniture, and the sacrosanct role of Pukreila peace envoys.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tangkhul society is strictly exogamous and patrilineal, organized into clans (shang) and sub-lineages (shimkhor). Marriage within the clan was strictly prohibited as shiman-kaphung. Land tenure was threefold: communal village land, clan land, and family hereditary plots. Ancestral homesteads passed through male primogeniture. When villages entered formal treaties, high-status women born in one village and married into the other acted as Pukreila (peace ambassadors). The person of the Pukreila was sacrosanct; harming an ambassador was regarded as an unforgivable breach invoking divine retribution.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Tangkhul society is strictly exogamous and patrilineal, organized into clans (shang) and sub-lineages (shimkhor). Intra-clan marriage was strictly prohibited. Land tenure comprised communal village land, clan reserves, and family plots. Homesteads passed via male primogeniture. Inter-village treaties were mediated by Pukreila (female peace ambassadors). The person of the Pukreila was sacrosanct, and harming an ambassador invoked severe divine retribution.

* Shimkhor (noun): sub-lineage, hearth-circle within a clan
* Pukreila (noun): female peace ambassador, sacrosanct treaty envoy
* Khamatui (noun): divine retribution, cosmic curse on covenant breakers

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The feminine suffix '-la' in 'Pukreila' designates an honored woman functioning in ambassadorial capacity.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Explain the diplomatic and moral functions of the Pukreila in Naga warfare.

? What are the three categories of land ownership under Tangkhul customary law?

Chapter 5: Head-Taking (Rai) and Peacemaking Rituals

CHAPTER 5: HEAD-TAKING (RAI) AND PEACEMAKING RITUALS

Summary: The ritual logic of head-taking, the village skull repository, and the solemn covenant of spear burial.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Head-taking among the Tangkhul was bound to cosmological balance, fertility of crops, and personal valor. It was ritual warfare governed by strict customary boundaries. Heads taken were brought to the village entrance, received with ritual chants, and hung at the sacred village tree (khor-thing) or deposited at the village skull depository. Wars were concluded through the solemn ceremony of spear burial (kachu-kapam) and the consumption of ceremonial pork and rice-beer between combatant Awungas. Broken oaths brought calamity upon future generations.

* Khor-thing (noun): sacred village tree, warrior trophy oak
* Kachu-kapam (noun phrase): spear burial, solemn peacemaking covenant
* Tala-khon (noun): war horn, buffalo horn trumpet sounding alarm or victory

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Compound verbal noun ’kachu-kapam’ pairs ’kachu’ (spear) with ’kapam’ (planting/burying deeply).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? How did Tangkhul warriors conclude peace after warfare?

? What cosmological beliefs were associated with head-taking?

Chapter 6: Traditional Religion: Kameo, Varivara, and Feasts of Merit

CHAPTER 6: TRADITIONAL RELIGION: KAMEO, VARIVARA, AND FEASTS OF MERIT

Summary: Cosmological belief in the Supreme God (Varivara), spirits of nature (Kameo), and memorial Feasts of Merit (Maringphat).

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Tangkhul cosmology recognized a Supreme Creator God (Varivara) who dwelt in the highest heavens, benevolent and just. Beneath Varivara were regional nature spirits (Kameo) inhabiting sacred groves, cliffs, and peaks. Propitiatory offerings were made by the village priest (Maiba) to appease spirits. Wealthy individuals who accumulated surplus grain and cattle performed progressive Feasts of Merit (Maringphat), feeding the entire village community and allied settlements for multiple days, erecting memorial megaliths (lung-thei), and carving house-fronts with horn-motifs (lengcheng-pakhang).

* Maringphat (noun): Feast of Merit, progressive socioeconomic feast
* Lung-thei (noun): memorial stone megalith, standing commemorative stone
* Lengcheng-pakhang (noun phrase): house-horns, carved gable-planks of feast givers

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Nominal compound ’lung-thei’ combines ’lung’ (stone) with stative ’thei’ (manifest / conspicuous).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What cultural privileges did a Feast of Merit confer upon a Tangkhul family?

? Distinguish between the supreme role of Varivara and localized Kameo spirits.

Chapter 7: The Colonial Encounter and Political Awakenings

CHAPTER 7: THE COLONIAL ENCOUNTER AND POLITICAL AWAKENINGS

Summary: Colonial pacification, William Pettigrew’s mission school in Ukhrul, and the emergence of modern Naga consciousness.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

The arrival of British administration in the late 19th century and the establishment of Rev. William Pettigrew’s mission school at Ukhrul in 1896 initiated dramatic socioeconomic transformations. Roman script literacy, modern medical care, and Christianity gradually replaced the head-taking regime. Yet Tangkhul customary laws, land rights, and village identity endured, forming the foundation of modern Naga political consciousness and solidarity in northeast India.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

British colonial administration and Rev. William Pettigrew’s mission school in 1896 at Ukhrul catalyzed profound transformations. Roman literacy, healthcare, and Christianity gradually replaced the warfare regime. Yet customary laws, ancestral land tenure, and village identity endured, providing the bedrock of modern Naga political solidarity in northeast India.

Chapter 7 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 7 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

Chapter 1: The Jurisprudential Philosophy of Wung Law

CHAPTER 1: THE JURISPRUDENTIAL PHILOSOPHY OF WUNG LAW

Summary: Core principles of restorative justice: cosmic equilibrium (shak-kasa), communal restitution, and clan liability.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Wung (Tangkhul) customary law does not distinguish rigidly between civil tort and criminal injury; every offense is understood as a breach of cosmic and communal equilibrium (shak-kasa). The primary goal of judicial proceedings is not punitive incarceration, but the restitution of social harmony through compensatory settlement (shiman). Law is rooted in three principles: Respect for Ancestral Covenant (Kharachanwui Tuingashit), Preservation of Clan Integrity (Shangwui Kaphung), and Absolute Truthfulness before Varivara. The clan stands collective surety for its members.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Wung customary law does not distinguish rigidly between tort and crime; every offense is a breach of cosmic equilibrium (shak-kasa). The primary goal is restorative harmony through compensatory settlement (shiman) rather than punitive incarceration. Law rests on three pillars: ancestral covenants, clan integrity, and truthfulness before God. The clan bears collective liability.

Chapter 1 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 1 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Mayonza (noun): customary law, justice code, jurisprudence
* Shak-kasa (noun): breach of taboo, disrupting communal balance
* Shiman (noun): compensatory fine, restitution, indemnification
* Shangwui kaphung (noun phrase): corporate clan honor and collective standing

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The abstract noun ’mayonza’ derives from root ’mayon’ (to watch over / govern responsibly) + ’-za’ (statute).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What is the primary objective of judicial proceedings in Wung customary law?
? How does clan solidarity function regarding civil liabilities and fines?

Chapter 2: Marriage Laws (Ngalong), Alliances, and Bride Wealth

CHAPTER 2: MARRIAGE LAWS (NGALONG), ALLIANCES, AND BRIDE WEALTH

Summary: Strict clan exogamy, matrilateral cross-cousin alliances, bride wealth (shiman) protocols, and divorce penalties.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Marriage is an alliance between two distinct clans (shang). Strict exogamy is enforced under pain of grave moral censure. Marriage with a maternal aunt’s daughter or mother’s clan was preferred (cross-cousin marriage), cementing alliances. Bride wealth among the Tangkhul is not a commercial transaction, but a symbolic recompense to the bride’s clan for the loss of her productive labor. Typical gifts include cattle (se), brass gongs (sen-kuir), and shawls. Divorce was uncommon and subject to rigorous financial penalties and property restitution.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Marriage is an alliance between two distinct clans under strict exogamy. Cross-cousin marriage cemented bilateral ties. Bride wealth was a symbolic recompense for the loss of female labor, consisting of cattle, brass gongs, and handwoven textiles. Divorce was rare and penalized by stringent property forfeitures and subsistence indemnities.

CHAPTER 2 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Ngalong (noun): matrimonial law, marriage institution
* Sen-kuir (noun): valuable brass ceremonial gong used in bride wealth
* Tui-kachathei (noun): formal betrothal negotiation between clan spokesmen
* Ngalawui phunglung (noun phrase): dowry possessions brought by the bride

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The nominal compound ’sen-kuir’ fuses ’sen’ (brass / bell-metal) with ’kuir’ (circular rim / gong).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Why was cross-cousin marriage favored in traditional Tangkhul society?

? What customary articles constituted bride wealth in Luikham’s documentation?

Chapter 3: Clan Inheritance (Kashak) and Land Tenures

CHAPTER 3: CLAN INHERITANCE (KASHAK) AND LAND TENURES

Summary: Inalienability of ancestral terrace fields, right of preemption by clan brethren, and primogeniture obligations.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Terrace land (Luingam) is held in perpetuity by lineages. Under no circumstance may ancestral land be sold to an outsider from another village. If an individual must alienate land due to debt, he must first offer the right of preemption to his nearest clan brethren (shangwui ngacham-mi). The eldest son (kaphung-mayar) inherits the ancestral home (shim-kharar) and principal terrace fields, assuming the obligation of maintaining aging parents and performing funeral rites. Younger sons receive secondary plots and assistance in constructing independent homesteads.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Terrace land (Luingam) is held in perpetuity by lineages and can never be alienated to outside villagers. Preemption rights belong strictly to nearest clan brethren. The eldest son inherits the ancestral home and fields, assuming the solemn duty of caring for aged parents and funding funeral rites. Younger sons receive subordinate shares.

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Kashak (noun): inheritance, division of ancestral patrimony
* Shim-kharar (noun): ancestral home, the elder family hearth
* Kaphung-mayar (noun): eldest son, principal heir and hearth keeper
* Thikahaiwui ot (noun phrase): funeral rites and ceremonial obligations for deceased parents

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The kinship term ’kaphung-mayar’ signifies literally ’the son who bears the lineage weight’ (’phung’ = carry).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? State the rule of preemption governing Tangkhul terrace fields.

? What specific duties fall upon the eldest son under primogeniture?

Chapter 4: Civil Wrongs, Thefts, and Restitution (Shiman)

CHAPTER 4: CIVIL WRONGS, THEFTS, AND RESTITUTION (SHIMAN)

Summary: The threefold restitution rule for animal theft, grain theft penalties, and mediation of accidental injuries.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Theft of domestic animals was punished by threefold restitution (thum-ngashit): returning the stolen beast plus two additional animals of equal value as fine (kashiman) to the aggrieved family, plus a cleansing pig to the village council. Theft of harvested grain from field granaries was regarded as an aggravated offense requiring immediate public apology and heavy indemnity. Accidental physical injury was compensated according to working days lost, with the responsible party supplying rice and fowl. Homicide required temporary banishment to avert blood vengeance, followed by Pukreila peace negotiations.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Theft of domestic animals was punished by threefold restitution (thum-ngashit): returning the animal plus two others as fine, with a cleansing pig for the council. Granary theft required public apology and heavy indemnity. Accidental injuries were compensated based on lost working days and medicinal supplies. Homicide necessitated temporary exile to avert vengeance.

CHAPTER 4 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Thum-ngashit (noun): threefold restitution, triple compensatory penalty
* Kashiman (noun): judicial fine, indemnification sum
* Rai-shiman (noun): blood vengeance compensation, homicide settlement
* Khamazik (noun): public apology, ceremonial reconciliation before council

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Numeral compound ’thum-ngashit’ combines ’thum’ (three) with ’ngashit’ (equal fold / multiplied measure).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Explain the formula of ’thum-ngashit’ for livestock theft.

? Why was granary theft considered an aggravated offense against the village?

Chapter 5: Judicial Oaths and Trial by Ordeal (Theishak)

CHAPTER 5: JUDICIAL OATHS AND TRIAL BY ORDEAL (THEISHAK)

Summary: Trial by ordeal when evidence fails: tiger tooth oaths, water immersion diving (tara-kachung), and divine judgment.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

When oral testimony conflicted and evidence was inconclusive, the Hangva administered judicial oaths (theishak). An oath was not taken lightly; invoking false testimony before Varivara or clan ancestors was believed to result in premature death or the extinction of the swearer’s lineage. The most solemn oath involved biting a tiger’s tooth (shilwui ha) or touching a spear point. In property boundary disputes, contestants submitted to water immersion ordeals (tara-kachung), diving simultaneously into a river pool; the individual who surfaced first was adjudged dishonest. Hot water tests were also administered under the village priest’s scrutiny.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

When testimony conflicted, the Hangva administered judicial oaths (theishak). False oaths before God or ancestors were believed to bring premature death or lineage extinction. Solemn oaths included biting a tiger’s tooth or holding a spear point. Boundary disputes were decided by water immersion ordeals (tara-kachung); the contestant surfacing first lost the case.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Theishak (noun): judicial oath, solemn ordeal, invocation of divine judgment
* Shilwui ha (noun phrase): tiger’s tooth used in swearing supreme oaths
* Tara-kachung (noun): water immersion ordeal, competitive diving under river water
* Shang-khamatei (noun): extinction of lineage as consequence of perjury

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The verbal noun ’tara-kachung’ derives from ’tara’ (water) and ’kachung’ (entering / submerging deeply).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What metaphysical consequences were believed to follow false oaths in Tangkhul law?
? Describe the procedural rules of the ’tara-kachung’ water ordeal.

Chapter 6: Traditional Taboos (Khamthei) and Sanctuary Rights

CHAPTER 6: TRADITIONAL TABOOS (KHAMTHEI) AND SANCTUARY RIGHTS

Summary: Sacred rest days (genna / khamthei), the sanctuary of the chief's central pillar (shim-chui), and hearth purification.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Certain days were declared Khamthei (sacred rest days / genna) during which agricultural labor, weaving, and woodchopping were strictly forbidden. Breaching Khamthei was believed to blight crops and attracted village fines. The homestead of the Awunga served as an inviolable sanctuary. A fugitive fleeing vengeance who succeeded in touching the Awunga's central house-pillar (shim-chui) was granted temporary immunity while elders convened to arbitrate. Following unnatural deaths, purification ceremonies (shim-kashak) were conducted by the village Maiba before normal commensality could resume.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Certain days were declared Khamthei (sacred genna days) where all labor was forbidden. Breaching taboos blighted crops and drew fines. The chief's home was an inviolable sanctuary; a fugitive touching the central pillar (shim-chui) gained immunity pending arbitration. Unnatural deaths required ritual house-cleansing (shim-kashak) by the priest before social commensality was restored.

Chapter 6 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 6 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Khamthei (noun): taboo, sacred non-working day, genna restriction
* Shim-chui (noun): central house-pillar, sacred pillar of sanctuary
* Shim-kashak (noun): ritual purification of hearth following defilement
* Khamatei thi (noun phrase): unnatural death, demise by lightning, predator, or cliff fall

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Stative verb 'khamthei' (to be forbidden / set apart) nominalizes into the general term for taboo.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What physical act granted a fugitive temporary immunity from vengeance?

? Describe the ceremonies conducted after an unnatural death ('khamatei thi').

Chapter 7: Village Administration and Modern Legal Recognition

CHAPTER 7: VILLAGE ADMINISTRATION AND MODERN LEGAL RECOGNITION

Summary: Customary dues of the Awunga, codification under Manipur Hill Peoples Regulation (1947), and contemporary customary cour

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

The Awunga was endowed with customary prerogatives: he received the right thigh of all game felled in village forests, was entitled to communal labor on his fields during the sowing season, and received a portion of adjudication fines. In exchange, the Awunga maintained the village covenant stones and represented the community in external treaties. Under the Manipur State Hill Peoples Regulation (1947), Tangkhul customary courts were granted formal statutory recognition to adjudicate civil and customary disputes, preserving speedy, restorative, and cost-free community justice.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

The Awunga received the right thigh of game felled in forests, communal labor on his fields, and judicial fine portions. In return, he maintained covenant stones and represented the village diplomatically. Under the Manipur State Hill Peoples Regulation (1947), customary courts received formal statutory recognition, ensuring restorative, cost-free justice.

Chapter 1: Epic Ballads of Ancestral Heroes (Luikham and Raikham)

CHAPTER 1: EPIC BALLADS OF ANCESTRAL HEROES (LUIKHAM AND RAIKHAM)

Summary: Communal epic commemorating the ancestral founders clearing the ancient forests of Shirui Peak and eastern ranges.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Shirui kashongli kashung thot, Luikham mayarna thing-chui sathei;
Shangwui khonkhur kachiva ngasoda, Wungram khararchan mathan salu!
Khanggo shongli zattang thotna, Khayeikatha tara khorli; Meithei ramli ngaso-chithei, Raikham mayarna phara pamsai. The metre follows the traditional heptasyllabic cadence (seven syllables per line) typical of classical Tangkhul folk poetry, with internal rhyme and paired metaphorical couplets (tui-ngatei).

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

On the high ridge of Shirui Peak, Hero Luikham felled the sacred tree;
All the clans gathered with one voice, Singing the praise of the ancestral land! As they journeyed toward the eastern valleys, beside the clear sparkling streams, Brother Raikham established peaceful commerce with the peoples of the plains, cementing ancestral brotherhood.
Classical heptasyllabic metre with paired metaphorical couplets.

Chapter 1 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 1 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Shirui kashong (proper noun): Shirui Peak, highest sacred mountain in Ukhrul
* Thing-chui (noun): sacred forest tree, central ridge timber
* Khonkhur (noun): voice, resonant vocal harmony, clan assembly
* Tui-ngatei (noun phrase): paired metaphorical couplet, synonymous poetic parallelism

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Tangkhul classical poetry uses heptasyllabic (7-syllable) lines ending with prolonged vowel morae.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What sacred mountain is featured in the epic ballad of Luikham?
? Explain the poetic device of 'tui-ngatei' (semantic parallelism) in Tangkhul verse.

Chapter 2: Agricultural Chants of Luira and Chumpha

CHAPTER 2: AGRICULTURAL CHANTS OF LUIRA AND CHUMPHA

Summary: Chants for the February seed-sowing festival (Luira), monsoon terrace weeding, and post-harvest thanksgiving (Chumpha).

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Luira phanit rarang thotna, Luingam ngaleili raruikatha chitheilu; Varivara kaphungli khangamor, Zingkum hili rui-kashang phanlu! Phaphuk ngashingda lui-kaphitli, Ngala-mayar ngasoda vangasai; Thangkhamir kachangli khangarao, Kong-khor tara mangda ngasolu! Chumpha phanit kasang thotna, Raizan shimli kashung kaping; Ava-ayi shiman mathailakla, Miwung kachivali tingkhami phanlu!

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

When Luira festival draws near, present the seed of life to the terrace field; Praying to Almighty God on high, May this new year bring a bountiful harvest! With sturdy feet in muddy terrace waters, youth and maidens labor side by side; Though parched by midday sun, we drink of mountain streams together! When Chumpha feast arrives, granaries are filled to overflowing; let no household suffer want, and may peace dwell with all the people.

CHAPTER 2 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Lui-kaphit (noun): weeding of terrace paddy fields in monsoon
* Rui-kashang (noun phrase): abundant harvest, multiplying grain sheaves
* Kong-khor tara (noun phrase): pure mountain brook water
* Tingkhami (noun): peace, domestic tranquility, harmonious blessing

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Optative imperative suffix ’-lu’ on ’phanlu’ functions as a collective prayer: may it bring blessing!

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What three stages of the agricultural year are celebrated in these chants?

? Translate the Chumpha festival couplet into English.

Chapter 3: Romantic Courting Dialogues (Mawonzai)

CHAPTER 3: ROMANTIC COURTING DIALOGUES (MAWONZAI)

Summary: Nocturnal poetic duets at the girls' dormitory (Ngala Longshim) using floral and bird allegories.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

The Suitor's Verse (Mayarwui La): 'Kazing kashungli won-kapha, Ngalawui maiwon theisai; Iwui malungli khayangna, Nali kongashi phunglikha.' The Maiden's Response (Ngalawui Ngahan): 'Shirui wonna kachang phungsai, Kha mayar nawui tuichi kashung; Shangwui khararbing ngashon-khalakha, Iwui malungli tingkhami phanlu.' Courtship was conducted through intricate metaphorical riddles, where direct speech was avoided in favor of floral allegories.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Suitor: 'Upon the mountain heights blossoms a fair flower, I behold the maiden's radiant countenance; Looking into my heart, I bear deep love for you.' Maiden: 'The Shirui Lily blooms on high, yet young man, your words ring true; If the elders of the clans grant blessing, peace shall find a home within my heart.' Courtship duets avoided direct speech in favor of floral allegories.

Chapter 3 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 3 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Mawonzai (noun): romantic folk dialogue, courting poetry duet
* Won-kapha (noun phrase): fair flower, exquisite blossom
* Maiwon (noun): countenance, blooming beauty of face
* Shirui won (proper noun): the Shirui Lily (Lilium mackliniae), botanical emblem

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Metaphorical pairing of 'Shirui won' (rare endemic lily) symbolizes the prized virtue of the maiden.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? Where were Mawonzai courting dialogues traditionally performed?

? Analyze how botanical allegories replace direct romantic declarations in Tangkhul poetry.

Chapter 4: Hunting Incantations and Forest Anthems (Khamasung La)

CHAPTER 4: HUNTING INCANTATIONS AND FOREST ANTHEMS (KHAMASUNG LA)

Summary: Invocations to forest spirits (Khara-kameo), pursuit of wild quarry, and the serow triumph chant.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Ngashan phungli kapei khangaran, Khara-kameoli dori khami; Shi-wung kachangli khanasung, Awungali share khayao salu! Kaphung kachangli kashung sayat, Haophi kachonli mathan theikahai; Pangmashan mayarna theisatkatha, Longshimli la kashak phanlu! Upon felling wild game (stag, boar, serow), the hunting party sounded the victory horn (tala-khon) and entered the village gates singing triumphant chants. The right thigh was delivered to the Awunga.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Ascending the ridges in preparation, presenting gifts to the forest spirits; Entering the dense mountain forest, Render the chief’s rightful tribute! The serow roaming high cliffs has been struck down; Clothed in traditional cloth, its beauty displayed; The mighty youth have conquered; Let the dormitory raise the hunting song of triumph! The victory horn (tala-khon) accompanied entry into the village gates.

VOCABULARY:

* Khamasung la (noun phrase): hunting anthem, forest pursuit chant
* Khara-kameo (noun): spirit of the forest wilderness
* Sayat (noun): serow (Capricornis sumatraensis), mountain antelope
* Haophi (noun): traditional Tangkhul woven cloth / warrior mantle

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The honorific compound 'shi-wung' combines 'shi' (wild beast) with 'wung' (majesty / sovereign of game).

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What animal tribute was delivered to the Awunga after a successful hunt?
? What traditional musical instrument announced the return of the hunting party?

Chapter 5: Funeral Elegies and Laments (Kathi La)

CHAPTER 5: FUNERAL ELEGIES AND LAMENTS (KATHI LA)

Summary: Guiding the departed soul along the trail to Kazeiram (the underworld realm of spirits) with ceremonial slit-drum rhythms.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

I-va o, nawui zatkatha shongfali, Kazeiram kongli kaphan thotna;
Khamatei ngathumli macharanlu, Khararbingna nali khaphung phungsai!
Mourners beat the wooden slit-log drum (khamor-thing) in slow, syncopated rhythms accompanying the funeral chant. The dirge guides the soul past dangerous spiritual cliffs into the peaceful gathering place of the ancestors.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

O beloved father, along the path where you journey, When you reach the dark river of Kazeiram; Do not fear the shadow of the unknown, For the ancestors stand ready to welcome your soul! Mourners beat the wooden slit-log drum (khamor-thing) in solemn rhythms guiding the soul to the ancestral realm.

Chapter 5 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 5 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Kathi la (noun phrase): funeral elegy, death dirge, lamentation song
* Kazeiram (proper noun): realm of departed souls, the ancestral underworld
* Khamor-thing (noun): ceremonial wooden slit-drum, log gong
* Kathi mangan (noun phrase): departed spirit, soul of the deceased

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- The vocative interjection ’I-va o’ (O my father!) introduces profound filial grief in elegiac poetry.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What is Kazeiram in Tangkhul eschatological belief?

? What musical instrument accompanies the recitation of Kathi La?

Chapter 6: Martial Anthems and Victory Ballads (Rai La)

CHAPTER 6: MARTIAL ANTHEMS AND VICTORY BALLADS (RAI LA)

Summary: War songs of defense, invocation of lineage bravery, and the solemn spear burial peacemaking finale.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Wungram kashangli kachisobing, Kachu-kaphi pangli phungda vangasai; Rari-kapangna raranglikha, Ithumwui ramli mazanglak mana! Following conflict, warriors assembled with their adversaries under the guidance of the Pukreila to sing the solemn reconciliation hymn, burying spearheads in the earth and swearing eternal non-aggression.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Defenders of the noble homeland, marching forth with spear and shield in hand; Though enemies approach, they shall never enter our village territory! Following conflict, combatants gathered under the Pukreila’s mediation to sing the reconciliation hymn, burying spearheads in the earth in eternal peace covenants.

Chapter 6 Exercises & Vocabulary

CHAPTER 6 STUDY GUIDE & EXERCISES

VOCABULARY:

* Rai la (noun phrase): martial anthem, war song, defense hymn
* Kachu-kaphi (noun phrase): spear and shield, battle armaments
* Wungram kashang (noun phrase): the sovereign, honored Tangkhul territory
* Mazanglak mana (verb phrase): shall never enter, absolutely barred entry

GRAMMAR & LINGUISTIC POINTS:

- Emphatic prohibitive suffix combination ’-lak mana’ denotes resolute defensive determination.

REVIEW EXERCISES (KHANGACHAN):

? What armaments are described in the warrior’s verse?
? How did martial songs transition into peacemaking ceremonies?

Chapter 7: Proverbs and Moral Allegories in Song (Paotam La)

CHAPTER 7: PROVERBS AND MORAL ALLEGORIES IN SONG (PAOTAM LA)

Summary: Tribal philosophy in lyrical proverbs: agricultural diligence, clan obedience, and ethical rectitude.

TANGKHUL READING TEXT:

Folk singers embedded tribal philosophy into short lyrical proverbs (Paotam La) taught to children around winter fires: ’Khamatei sachitheikha maram kashung mathailak mana’ (A crooked beginning cannot yield an upright crop). ’Shangwui tuili ngashon-katha kazing kashungli pamsai’ (He who heeds clan counsel walks under clear skies). ’Luingamli mik kachangna raizanli raruikatha theilikha’ (Eyes that watch the terrace fields will see full granaries). The volume concludes with critical musical apparatus: pentatonic scales, antiphonal Mawonzai structures, and funeral metres.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION:

Tribal philosophy was embedded in memorable lyrical proverbs taught around evening fires: A crooked start yields no upright crop; He who heeds clan counsel walks under open skies; Eyes watchful over terrace fields shall behold overflowing granaries. Critical apparatus includes pentatonic scales, antiphonal structures, and elegiac drum metres.

Chapter 7 Exercises & Vocabulary
