Proverb on the Power of Words: Khamor kachangna

Resource Identifier: CULT-PROV-003

English Translation: Sharp Words Pierce Deeper than Spear Wounds

Category: Proverb | Subcategory: Ethics

Village / Region: Ukhrul | Dialect: Ukhrul

Contributor / Source: Traditional Oral Wisdom (Pettigrew 1918, Sira 1991) (Documented in Pettigrew 1918, p. 312)

License: Public Domain (Permissions: public_domain)

Seasonal Timing / Occasion: Social mediation and ethics

---

Ethnographic Summary & Context:

Original saying: 'Khamor kachangna phei ngazekli.' Warns that harsh words inflict psychological injuries that endure far longer than physical wounds.

Indigenous Tangkhul Text / Chants / Sayings:

"Khamor kachangna phei ngazekli."

English Translation & Meaning:

"Sharp words pierce deeper and endure longer than spear wounds."

Procedural Sequence / Observance Steps:

Invoked in conflict resolution to encourage restrained, respectful speech.

Ceremonial Participants & Roles:

Elders, Community Members

---