[LIT-POEM-001] Ava Ram Leishat

Translation: Love of the Motherland

Work Type: POEM | Creator: Luingam A. Shimray | Year: 2000
Village: Ukhrul | Dialect: Standard Tangkhul | Book ID: BK-TLS-007
Publisher / Source: Tangkhul Literature Society, Manipur
Clearance: Educational Curriculum | Permission: permitted | Status: verified

---

Themes: Patriotic devotion to the ancestral mountain homeland (Ava Ram), Celebration of high altitude topography, verdant ridges, and pristine

Structure & Meter: Modern lyrical verse composed in regular four-line stanzas with heroic

---

Critical Overview: Authored by Luingam A. Shimray and anthologized in Class IX textbook Tangkhul Tuitam Kachiko (2000), this poem is one of the most

---

Indigenous Tangkhul Literary Text / Stanzas:

I-ram Hunphun, I-ram Ukhrul, kaphung yarsho-wui shimlut kashak,
Varenana kapha rali ringsang-da, ngasot-mayarnao makhayipmana.
Ava Ram leishatna iwui ngalungli meikha thada meikhangao,

English Translation & Literary Rendering:

My homeland Hunphun, my beloved Ukhrul, majestic citadel along the mount
Where the Creator poured forth bounties, and comrades dwell in unbroken
Love of the Motherland burns like living fire within the deepest chamber

---

Key Poetic & Literary Vocabulary Terms:

* Ava Ram : Motherland / ancestral soil and territory
* Leishat : Sacred, patriotic, and protective love
* Ming-Kachon : Glorious fame and honored reputation