[LIT-POEM-010] Shirui Kashongwui Mahon

Translation: The Splendor of Mount Shirui

Work Type: POEM | Creator: Luingam A. Shimray | Year: 1999
Village: Ukhrul | Dialect: Standard Tangkhul | Book ID: BK-TLS-007
Publisher / Source: Tangkhul Literature Society / Ukhrul Poetry Journa
Clearance: Educational Heritage | Permission: permitted | Status: verified

---

Themes: Apostrophe to Mount Shirui as the spiritual anchor of Tangkhul identity (Shirui Kashong), The rare Shirui Lily (Lilium mackliniae) as

Structure & Meter: Celebratory lyric ode composed in six four-line stanzas with regular e

---

Critical Overview: Composed by Luingam A. Shimray, one of the most distinguished 20th-century Tangkhul poets. The poem elevates Mount Shirui

---

Indigenous Tangkhul Literary Text / Stanzas:

Shirui Kashong kaphung ngakui mathalaka, kazing meikharor eina khongrei
Kazing ramwui won kashung Kashongwui Won, meikhangao thada ngalei kazing
Kaphung yarsho-li vanao khon saron, thing-won matha shoklaga meikha shur
Iramwui mahon Shirui Kashong, Tangkhul ngashan mirinwui ning-ngashang ch
Chitharan khararchar kachiva-li nawui mahon theida, Tangkhul naonao ring
Kashong Won khamatha ramleishat wui won thada, ningkacham mirinli mayons

---

English Translation & Literary Rendering:

Majestic rises the summit of Mount Shirui, crowned in swirling mists and There blooms the peerless Kashong Lily, glowing across the mountain slop
Through verdant ravines forest songbirds chant, while alpine blossoms re
O Shirui Peak, supreme emblem of our homeland, guardian spearhead of Tan

---

Key Poetic & Literary Vocabulary Terms:

* Shirui Kashong : Mount Shirui, landmark peak of Ukhrul district, ho
* Kashong Won : Shirui Lily (Lilium mackliniae), endemic botanical
* Meikharor : Mountain cloud-blanket / rolling morning mists ove

---